WELCOME TO THE SCHOOL'S BROCHURE FROM PORTSMOUTH HISTORIC DOCKYARD.

We have activities that bring to life the Royal Navy's rich history and heritage through our exciting collections and amazing ships, including HMS Victory, The Mary Rose, HMS Warrior and HMS M33.

This year we are introducing our Diving Deep loans box which features some real artefacts from the 18th Century shipwreck HMS Invincible. It has been designed for Secondary aged students and contains experiments that replicate the work of marine archaeologists.

We are also pleased to launch our latest offer Discover More Live! - a quality learning opportunity combining themed hands on gallery activities with teacher led visits to our historic ships.

Our galleries span over 400 years of naval history with fascinating objects, audio visuals and interactives. With themes including the sailing navy, Nelson and Trafalgar, the two World Wars and modern conflict post 1945. The good news is a visit to the National Museum of the Royal Navy galleries is included when you book to visit one of our ships.

We are sure that you will find something to help you make the most of your visit. We look forward to welcoming you and your group.

It has been 150 years since the Challenger Expedition set out to learn more about the science of the oceans. During this action-packed week your class will discover more about the expedition, plus the stories of Victorian explorers such as Charles Darwin and Captain William Parry, and uncover their stunning successes and dismal disasters.

Your students will take part in a teacher-led visit to HMS Warrior 1860, using one of our special backpacks, to learn more about life on board a Victorian ship and put themselves in the place of globetrotting sailors.

They will also meet our very own seafarer in the Sailing Navy gallery who will share their daring tales of surviving in extreme conditions like the heat of the Equator and freezing Polar regions and set some tricky conundrums for your explorers. Would they make the same decisions as our Naval travellers? What was the impact-both positive and negative-that naval expeditions had on this country and the wider world? And how is life on board HMS Scott - a modern day survey ship - different to that of HMS Challenger?

SPECIAL EDUCATION NEEDS AND ACCESS PROVISION

HMS VICTORY

One of the decks of HMS Victory is also accessible with a handling activity and virtual tour available to enhance visits. Touch tours and Audio Descriptive tours are also available. We have multi-sensory kitbags for use in galleries. Wheelchairs, magnifying glasses and large print text can also be arranged in advance.

HMS WARRIOR

The ship is accessed via a ramp. Because she is still afloat the gradient can change with the tides and we would recommend entering at low tide if that is a concern, tide times can be accessed by visiting www.historicdockyard.co.uk/plan-your-visit/overview/accessibility

HMS M.33

The ship is more accessible than some of her older counterparts. Wheelchair access to the lower deck is available via a lift and upper deck stairs are more generously spaced. There are some steep stairs in place and our Audio Visual Experience does not have subtitles and can be dark and upsetting for some.

THE NATIONAL MUSEUM OF THE ROYAL NAVY GALLERIES

The National Museum of the Royal Navy galleries are fully accessible to wheelchair users including a lift and toilets in every gallery.

THE MARY ROSE

The Museum is fully accessible by wheelchair, and the museum houses a wheelchair accessible toilet. Lifts are available to move along the visitor route. Information and guides are available in large print formats. We also offer sensory resources, including tactile plans and painting of the ship. Visitors are also welcome to handle certain artefacts, both historical objects and replicas.

The light levels in the museum are kept low for conservation purposes, so if you have any issues please speak to a member of our team and they will help you with your journey. There is an audio loop system in exhibition spaces. We also provide transcripts and subtitles for the audio visual content in most areas. All guide and assistance dogs are most welcome.

HARBOUR TOUR

Two manual wheelchair spaces are available on the Harbour Tours service (depending on the vessel).

GENERAL SITE

Accessible toilets are available in the National Museum of the Royal Navy, Boathouse No.7, and the Mary Rose. Adult changing facilities are available in the Mary Rose disabled toilets.

We have a limited number of FREE Chillout Backpacks containing resources to help pupils feel more grounded and comfortable. They include items such as weighted toys, ear defenders, fiddle toys and sensory treasures to support pupils who may struggle in a new and challenging environment. Please reserve one of these backpacks when you book your visit as numbers are limited.

Please let us know any special requirements or if you require these resources at the time of booking so that we can help you get the most from your visit.
